
I have made a donation to LitWorld in your name.

Together we can change the world, story by story.

Literacy is the fundamental human right that preserves and makes possible all other human rights, yet worldwide at least 793 million people remain illiterate. LitWorld is changing that.

LitWorld, a 501C3 nonprofit organization, creates accessible, replicable educational programming using the power of story to cultivate literacy skills in the world's most vulnerable children. The LitWorld LitClubs provide a democratized, mobile, and effective method of teaching and learning in the 21st century. LitClubs emphasize self-expression and confidence-building in a praise-centric, positive environment, leading to a dynamic improvement in reading and writing skills.
